KCC Student Letter Featured in Newsweek

An open letter by Kirtland Community College student Ramona Parish (St. Helen) was featured in the "My Turn" section of Newsweek Magazine. In her letter, Parish addresses the problems of single mothers who are welfare recipients.

The letter was written last fall semester in a composition class at Kirtland. It was submitted by her English teacher, Susan Boehner, of Grayling, to Newsweek in January and word that the national magazine is buying it for publication was received last month.

Parish says that she hopes this article "will make people stop and think, and not judge too harshly the next time they see someone using food stamps or Medicaid cards." She claims her letter "speaks for all single mothers who are struggling to make ends meet and become financially independent."

The "My Turn" page is the only news section in Newsweek which is not staff written.

Fish Hatchery Opens May 21

The Grayling Fish Hatchery will open for the season Saturday, May 21. The tourist attraction will be open seven days a week, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., until Sept. 12.

Trout Unlimited recently donated $500 to the hatchery to purchase trout for the Kid's Fishing Section on the East Branch. Trout Unlimited has sponsored the designated Kid's fishing section for several years.

Chamber Annual Dinner Meeting Scheduled for Wednesday, May 25

The Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce has scheduled its annual dinner meeting for May 25 at the Holiday Inn. The business meeting will be held at 5:30 p.m., followed by a 6:30 cocktail hour. Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m.

The directors are requesting that those attending bring business stationery to the meeting. Letters have been composed and entered into a computer pertaining to two issues that should be of interest to all local business people. One letter will be to Senator Levin in support of the National Guard, and one will be to Governor Blanchard in support of the statewide School Finance Reform. Someone will be available to enter your stationery into the computer during the cocktail hour.

The new Directors will be announced and inducted at the dinner. Tickets are on sale at the Chamber office and Mac's Drugs for $10 per person.

GHS Senior Honors Night Scheduled for Thursday, May 26

Grayling High School will host its 3rd annual Senior Honors Night on Thursday evening, May 26th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium. The program is being sponsored in the evening, to give the parents, relatives, and friends the opportunity to share in the honors being bestowed upon seniors.

A large portion of the 1988 graduating class will be recognized for their academic achievements through state and local college scholarships, top athletic and citizenship awards and a number of other categories. Six seniors will be receiving the President's Academic Fitness Award, which is based on scholarship, test scores, and a prescribed academic program achievement.

County Historical Museum Starts Summer Hours Memorial Day

The Crawford County Historical Museum at the Depot will open for the summer starting on Memorial Day. The hours are from 10 to 4 every day except Sunday. The Museum is staffed entirely by volunteer help.

Memorials may be given in memory of someone. A plaque is to be hung in the museum and the names in whose memory the memorial is given will be on the plaque. For further information, call Bob Ruddy anytime or Marie Akers 348-7558 after 4 p.m.

Last Day of School To Be Thursday, June 9

The Crawford AuSable School District School Calendar has been changed due to the lack of snow days during the school year. State law requires that any snow days beyond the first two be made up. The district had only two snow days this year and thus did not have to make up any days.

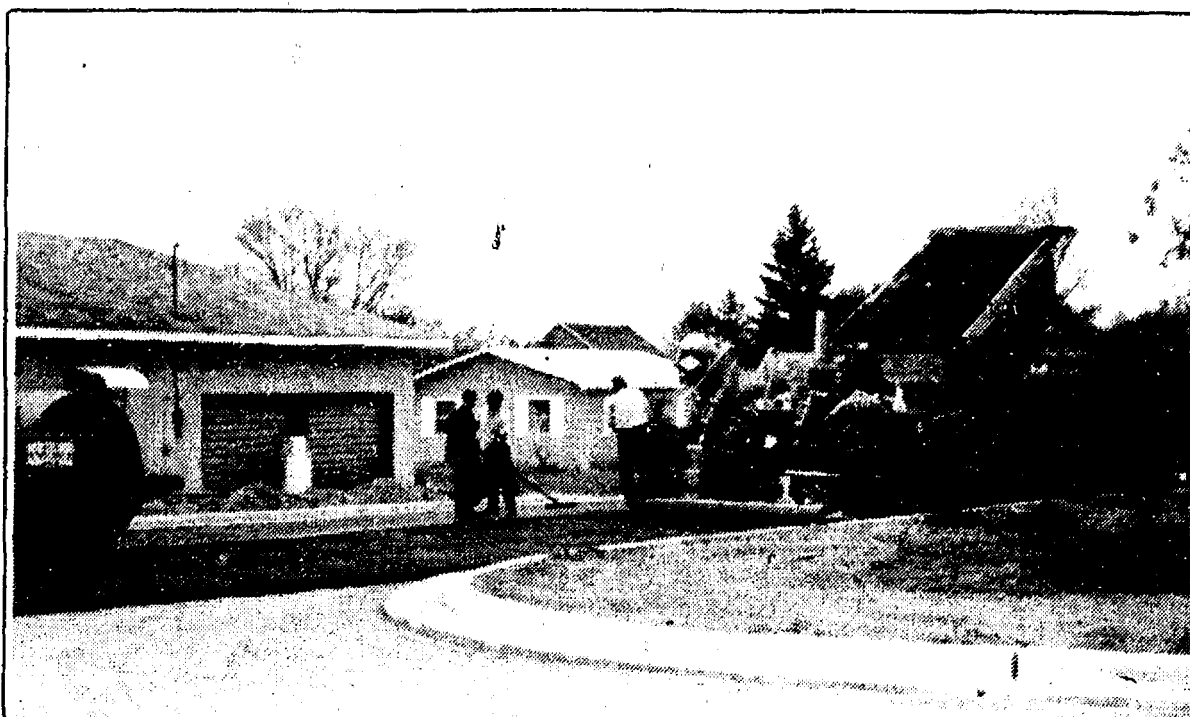

There will be no school on Friday, June 10, as it was scheduled as a make-up day. The last day of school will be Thursday, June 9, a half day of school with dismissal beginning at 11:30 at both elementary schools.

CITY ROAD PAVING PROJECT CONTINUES — Erie Street was the first Grayling street to receive a smooth layer of asphalt paving during the current road construction project. Road improvements for 1987-88 will cost approximately $280,000, and according to City Manager, Jerry Morford, should be completed by Memorial Day.

Tent Caterpillars Back Again in Large Numbers

This year Crawford County again has a large population of the eastern tent caterpillar (Malacosoma americana). The caterpillars hatch during the first warm spell in spring, says Kathie Arney, DNR Assistant Area Forest Manager, and construct a silky tent in the crotches of trees. Favored trees of the eastern tent caterpillar include cherry and apple, however they are also found on plum, peach, hawthorne and pear trees. The caterpillars, when full grown, measure 2-2½" and are deep black in color with a white stripe down the back, along with blue spots and brownish markings along each side. This larval stage lasts about six weeks and in early June, they form cocoons and emerge as moths about two weeks later.

Even though the eastern tent caterpillar may completely defoliate a tree, they rarely kill it, says Arney. There are several bacterial and chemical controls available and she says the bacterial controls are more effective. Dipel and Thuricide are bacterial insecticides and should be sprayed on the foliage as it needs to be injected to kill the insect. Sevin, a chemical, is a contact insecticide as well as a stomach poison, and can be sprayed either on the nest or the foliage, the latter being most effective. All controls are readily available. The DNR recommends homeowners not burn the nests as it may cause grass or forest fires.

Homeowners who want to protect trees from the insect should cut the tent nest out of the tree. Leaving the tents will usually mean an increase of caterpillars next year.

The best time for controlling the insect is in the spring when most of the caterpillars are still in or around the nest.

Small trees can be defoliated by the caterpillars and can die. Larger trees can survive some branches losing leaves but will die also if attacked several years in a row.

Many trees attacked this year will attempt to put out more leaves. Homeowners can fertilize and water the trees to help them survive the attack.

The eastern tent caterpillar should be nearing its population peak and may crash within the next year or two.

Usually a virus or bacteria disease will cause the population crash. Some birds and a species of wasp are among the natural predators of the tent caterpillar.

If you have any questions concerning the eastern tent caterpillar or any other insect problems, please contact the DNR at 348-6371.

July 4th Fireworks Returning To Town

By Irene Pettyjohn

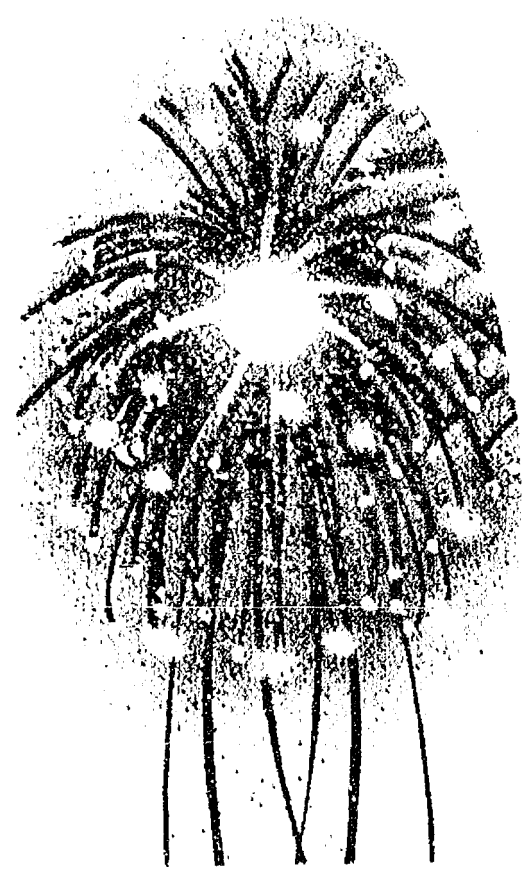

The annual Fourth of July fireworks display will be returning to the city of Grayling.

Three years ago increased liability concerns forced the Grayling Youth Booster Club to move the fireworks portion of Grayling's July 4th celebration to Camp Grayling.

Booster Club board members are considering two possible sites. The Grayling Country Club has offered the use of their property, and the Crawford County Board of Commissioners have offered the use of the property next to the Courthouse. Either site will allow residents and visitors attending Grayling's Fourth of July festivities to stay in the city for the entire day.

Pyro-technicians, liability insurance, and fireworks have pushed the anticipated expense for this year's display to $6,000. Grayling Youth Booster Club members will be accepting donations to help defray these expenses.

The Booster Club will again be sponsoring the July 4th parade.

Memorial Day Ceremonies Begin Diamond Jubilee For Camp Grayling's 75th

The first major event on the calendar for the Camp Grayling Diamond Jubilee celebration will be the Memorial Day dedication of a monument to the Michigan National Guard and the lighting of the Memorial Flame.

The day's program will begin at 10 a.m. at the Grayling Cemetery where a ceremony honoring the war dead will be held. This year a complement of 180 members of the Camp Grayling Installation Support Unit in dress uniform will be in attendance. During the program a flyover by guard helicopters will take place and music will be provided by the Grayling High School Band.

The local American Legion Post under the leadership of their Commander John Keir will conduct the prayers, rifle salute, and remembrances.

From the cemetery, a parade will make its way to the Crawford County Historical Society Museum in downtown Grayling. The march will include the band, guard, a Minuteman Soldier, a contingent of Vietnam veterans and other organizations. The local Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops have been invited to parade along with youngsters on decorated bicycles.

At the museum, a monument will be dedicated to the Michigan guard by Grayling Minuteman Foundation Chairman Jack Alef and Promotion Chairman Don Geiss. The Cannon Monument will be permanently mounted on a concrete foundation with a plaque honoring the guard attached.

From the museum, the audience and participants will proceed across the street to the County Building where the Memorial Flame will be lit. Dedicating that flame will be Maj. Gen. Vernon J. Andrews, Michigan Adjutant General. Once again music will be played by the Grayling High School Band.

Following the ceremony, a reception will be held for the persons attending in the lobby of the Chief Shoppenagor's Motor Hotel. The refreshments will be furnished by the management of the hotel as their contribution to honor the guard.

The National Guard are challenging all veterans to try to equal or exceed the number of Guard participating in the ceremonies. Veterans wanting to join the ceremonies should be at the ceremony at 9:45 a.m.

34-Mile Range Fencing Project Nearly Completed

By Irene Pettyjohn

Thirty-four miles of welded wire fences are the Michigan National Guard's latest attempts to secure their artillery, air-to-ground, mortar, and tank impact ranges.

Camp Grayling's Public Affairs Officer Maj. Foehl explained that construction of the three fences became necessary when all other attempts to keep the public out of the unstable impact ranges failed. Despite gates, signs, guards, bermed roads, and public announcements the incidences of trespassing, accidental and deliberate, continued to be a serious problem.

The Range Complex 13 fence is 5.3 miles long and encloses the mortar impact area located west of Military Road, and south of the Camp Grayling headquarters. The Range Complex 40 fence is 16.5 miles long, and secures the artillery and air-to-ground impact area north of County Road 612. The Range Complex 30 fence is 12.8 miles and encloses the tank range located north of North Down River Road, and south of County Road 612. All three fences are 5 ft. high.

The contractor, Snowden, Inc., of Escanaba, completed installation of the Range Complex 13 and 40 fences in 1987, and according to Col. Edgar Wilkins, Facilities Management Officer from Lansing, is scheduled to complete the complex 30 fence by June 1. The price tag for this project is $408,344, and Michigan taxpayers will pay the bill.

Facilities Engineer Lt. Col. Lee Lawson stated that the new fences should effectively eliminate all accidental entries into the impact areas, but deliberate trespassing is another matter.

Lawson explained that Range Complex 40 is considered the most dangerous impact area. Military personnel, expert in recognizing unexploded artillery and rocket shells, who must enter this area, travel only on the hard packed dirt roads where disturbed surfaces can be easily detected. He further stated that fires started in Range Complex 40 are allowed to burn themselves out. Fighting these fires is considered too dangerous, yet the fence constructed to secure this area has been breeched in numerous places. Trespassers, in the form of dirt bikers, four-wheelers, wood-cutters, and scavengers have used wire cutters, and in some cases, hooked onto the fence with chains and ripped-out large sections in order to gain entrance to this area. Lt. Col. Lawson said, "It is amazing to me that due to the number of people breeching the Range Complex 40 fence, that more accidents have not occurred."

To assist in securing these fenced areas a closure directive has been issued by the Department of Natural Resources making all public use of these areas illegal. Trespassers will be fined.

The new security fence surrounding the Grayling Army Air Field is 5.1 miles long, and was constructed by Durable Inc., of Sterling Heights. The project was funded by the federal government and cost $164,993.

Diamond Jubilee Dinner Updates 75th Birthday Plans

More than 100 local citizens and Michigan National Guard officers turned out last Wednesday for a dinner held to provide an update on plans for the 75th Birthday celebration for Camp Grayling.

Community leaders heard Joe O'Connor, president of the Consumer Market Analysis Company, detail the summer-long plans for the celebration. He is responsible for assembling the volunteers for the series of events and for drawing up the preliminary plans for the fete. O'Connor told the group that while he has been working on the celebration, he has found a community where volunteers are readily at hand to get the job done. He noted that only five months were allotted for the planning of events which would normally take much more time.

The guard plays a vital role in the economy of Grayling, O'Connor said, but it took his involvement in the planning for him to discover just how many millions of dollars are spent by them in the community.

During and after the dinner, specially designed Diamond Jubilee T-shirts and hats were introduced and offered for sale as a method of raising funds to finance the Diamond Jubilee events.

Choir To Sing Michigan Songs on School Lawn

During Michigan Week we go out on the lawn and sing songs about Michigan. The choir sings songs too. In this one song we sign language Michigan. It's fun singing songs about Michigan. If you come we hope you have a nice time. Ms. Emerick teaches and helps us sing them.

We are going on the lawn to sing on May 26 in the morning. These are some of the other songs we are going to sing, "The Star-Spangled Banner," "America," "Great Lakes State," "Grand Old Flag," "Michigan I-O," "Michigan Cities," "Make Mine Michigan," and "We Are Americans." Some of the songs are hard to learn. The choir has to wear dark and white and we have to wear our medals. The choir sings "We Are Americans." Michigan Week is a special time for people who live in Michigan. Why don't you come and see us because you will enjoy it a lot. We might have two Boy Scouts standing on a table holding the flag. Last year there were Boy Scouts holding the flags. Michigan Week was started in 1954. Michigan Week began because people wanted to know about their state. On the day we go out on the lawn the flag is only half-way up.

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson

(Dick Lattimer spoke at Fred Bear's Memorial Service of the way it might have been in the northern woods near Grayling on that Wednesday afternoon when Fred passed away.)

It was quiet in the forest. The final snow of winter had just melted. The arbutus and wild violets were beginning to put on their annual show and the popples had just begun to burst. Both the birch trees and the maples were starting their rebirth for the year and the red oaks were finally giving up on winter and deciding to drop their rich brown leaves.

Suddenly the quiet was torn by the plaintive caw of a solitary black crow as it skimmed over the tree tops toward the cedar and tamarack swamp. Deep within its soft island mounds the deer looked up from their daytime beds and wondered at the call. For the crow did not usually come to alert them while the sun was yet high. Along the crystal clear river the otter and the mink also looked up, wondering what had changed. The Rose-Breasted Grosbeaks, the Chickadees and the Nuthatches all heard the cry.

Finally, all of the creatures of the forest understood. For they knew that the crow had come to tell them of the death of the gentle bear. No longer would his huge soft feet walk down their worn trails. Nor would he pause to look under the low-hanging branches at what might lie ahead. And no longer would he move quietly through the forest with such great dignity.

But all of the creatures of the forest soon remembered that it was a time of renewal on the earth. Soon the persistent young Bracken Fern would work its way up thru the forest floor, the Indian Paintbrush and the Lady Slippers would mingle with the Wintergreen and the last few patches of snow would disappear deep within the Swamp, leaving behind an occasional tuft of deer hair from their winter beds. Soon the does would drop their fawns on the fragrant new grasses along the stream's edge and the eagle young would work their way through their protective shells.

Overhead the moon and the stars would continue their pirouette around the Universe and star dust would continue each day to fall upon the earth.

But all would remember having seen the bear and watching his slow, but sure, movement through the forest. And all would remember that nothing had changed in the forest and never really would. The wonders of life and death would continue.

This was Fred Bear's world, a world of woodsmoke, pawed acorns, the sweet smell of decaying leaves, the twitch of a deer's tail and ragged birch bark blowing in the wind.

It is said that some men do not walk where the path leads, rather they go where there is no path and leave a trail. Fred Bear was such a man. We shall all miss our Papa Bear.

State School Finance Reform Raises Plenty of Questions

(Editor's Note: At least two different school finance reform proposals are being debated in the Michigan Legislature right now. In the June 2nd and June 9th issues of the Avalanche, we will try to publish the most up-to-date news about those proposals and how they might affect our school district.)

Dear Sir,
Before the next school millage election, I would appreciate it if, the Avalanche could publish more information about the proposed legislation to raise our sales tax 2% in order to finance schools in the state. I have a few questions I would like to have answered, and I'm sure others could think of more questions:

1. Will this 2% of the sales tax go to a special fund earmarked for education, or will it be lost in the general fund with no real guarantee it will continue to be spent on the education of our children?

2. Will this proposed legislation include a mandatory major decrease in the amount of property taxes lined in counties and cities, and will there be a mandatory cap on future property taxes?

3. How will the money be distributed — using the current formula which benefits some schools, while others get none, or by a straight and simple and fair x number of dollars per pupil statewide?

4. Will the local community still retain control of their school system? Or will the state eventually impose conditions for receiving money which would substantially reduce community control?

5. Is there any provision in this proposed legislation to keep administrative costs to a bare minimum? This money should be for our children, not to support bureaucrats.

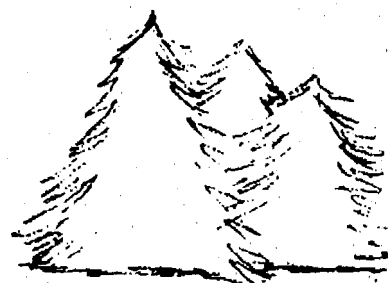

Sending our money to the state for them to send back to us is a little like giving yourself a transfusion by taking blood from one arm and putting it back in the other arm and losing 50% of it along the way. It is a process to be very cautious about. I hope we can learn a great deal more about this proposed legislation to raise our sales tax and be sure it contains the necessary safeguards before it becomes the law.

Do We Want More Radioactive Waste?

Dear Editor,
As you know, we are facing an extremely important issue right now — whether or not our state will become the radioactive dumping ground for 7 (and possibly more) states for the next 20 years. This means at least 2 truckloads from other states per day of this hazardous, potentially cancer-causing waste.

One of the main arguments Governor Blanchard and other dump proponents use for remaining in the Compact is economic. Yet an economic study of Michigan's options has never been done. Economic conclusions have been reached solely on the construction and monitoring costs and do not include the effect the dump will inevitably have on tourism, agriculture, new industries considering locating in Michigan, or property values. (One of the main reasons South Carolina is refusing to accept any additional wastes at its Barnwell site after 1992 is the negative effect of the dump site on their tourist industry.) The cost of potential legal disputes between the compact states is also ignored and could alone exceed any savings from economies of scale by remaining in the Compact.

Once a state has been designated as the radioactive waste dump site (as ours has), it has the option of withdrawing from the Compact. That state would then be responsible for disposing of its own waste. Isn't this much better than ours PLUS at least 6 others??

Write your legislators. Write the Governor. Tell them to take Michigan out of the Compact NOW. We, the citizens of this beautiful state, represent Michigan. Please don't stand by and gamble on what our governor is going to decide. With an issue as threatening to public and environmental health as this is, there is no room for politics. Let your voice be heard!

Stephen W. Hawking may very well be the most brilliant man alive today. A Cambridge physicist, Hawking has recently written A Brief History of Time, in which he presents his vision of the origin of the universe. He was in the United States in April, lecturing to overflow crowds at the University of California at Berkeley.

I was in Berkeley at the same time as Hawking, staying at the Hotel Durant. One morning, as I entered the hotel's dining room, I glanced briefly at a very disabled man at a table by the window. Strapped into a special chair, he was being fed his breakfast by a companion. Poor man, I thought before turning my attention to croissants and orange juice. I wonder why a person so severely handicapped would even attempt to go out in public. It surely would be easier to stay at home.

A few days later, after returning home, my friend Susan called me to say she had just heard an interview with Professor Hawking on the CMU public radio station. Surely I would remember him: he's the man we saw in the Durant dining room at Berkeley!

This is what she told me about Hawking: He has suffered since his college days from the degenerative disease, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, better known as "Lou Gehrig's disease."

Encyclopedia Britannica provided me with additional information about the disease: Its first symptoms may be weakness in certain muscles and perhaps a difficulty in speech or swallowing. Later other muscles are involved, becoming either overly stiff or overly slack. The senses are unimpaired and the intellect remains sound.

Indeed, Hawking is regarded by some as the 20th century successor to such great minds as Isaac Newton and Albert Einstein. And because he can no longer use a pencil, he must do all of his equations in his head.

While Hawking can speak only with the aid of a mechanized device strapped to his throat, he continues to communicate. He even joked with the reporter that his speech device took away his British accent, causing him to sound like an American. When he lectured at Berkeley, hundreds were willing to listen to him via television after the lecture hall was filled to capacity.

I don't know too much more about Professor Hawking. But I did learn something about myself: like him, I have a handicap. I suffer from an insidious form of the disease Prejudice, whose manifestations include, but are not limited to, judging a person upon first glance and underestimating his mental potential because he suffers from a physical disability.

Professor Hawking has triumphed over his limitations to perform ground-breaking work on the black holes of our cosmos. If I can overcome my limitations with a small degree of his grace, intelligence and sense of humor, then Stephen Hawking will have made another breakthrough into the black holes of one small person's closed mind.

Almanack

Col. North misses meaning

by Richard Milliman

THE SAGA OF COL. Oliver North is going to go on for quite some time, it appears. A special prosecutor has accused the former National Security Commission official of illegally diverting money in the Iranian arms activity, and Col. North may well stand trial in a criminal court one of these days.

Of course, it's entirely possible he may never face the criminal music, depending on what happens in the presidential pardon process.

Col. North apparently is not retreating from the strong, brave face he displayed during the televised congressional hearings several months ago; indeed, he even seems to be displaying an even stronger, even braver, even more brazen posture.

HE WENT BEFORE the graduating class at Liberty University in Lynchburg, Va., a short while back, to collect an honorary doctorate of humanities, and to deliver the commencement speech. This was all at the invitation of Liberty's founder and president, the Rev. Jerry Falwell.

From what was reported of the North address, Col. North doesn't even know what's involved in the whole legal and moral mess in which he has entangled himself — at least in public. Mark a couple of paragraphs of North philosophy, propounded to Liberty graduates, as reported in the press:

"I've been accused, Col. North said, "of helping the brave young men and women of the Nicaraguan resistance in their struggle for the very liberties we claim as birth-right."

"I've been accused of trying to rescue American hostages, held captive, and trying to prevent other terrorist attacks."

"Those accusations are not a brand," Col. North concluded. "They are a badge of honor."

FOR THE RECORD, Col. North faces a federal indictment charging him with conspiring to defraud the government by illegally diverting money from Iranian arms sales to the Contras seeking to oust Nicaragua's Marxist government.

The point is Col. North does not seem to even understand why he is being charged — at least, he won't acknowledge the facts in public.

He is not being charged with "helping the brave men and women of the Nicaraguan resistance" in a struggle for liberty.

He is not being charged with "trying to rescue American hostages" and "trying to prevent other terrorist attacks."

Indeed, if all that was involved was promoting liberty and opposing terrorism, then Col. North might well deserve the medals which he seems to think should be pinned on him.

RATHER IT'S A QUESTION of what he did to accomplish those goals. It's a question of the ends justifying the means. It's a question of whether some rather monstrous illegalities can be perpetrated to accomplish some perhaps commendable legalities.

Either Col. Oliver North doesn't understand these differences, or he refuses to admit they exist. If it is the first instance, he exhibits naivete bordering on stupidity; if the latter, his obstinacy approaches criminal obstructionism.

Col. North will continue to attract supporters because many Americans believe that the ends justify the means — so long as they agree with the ends. There are many more Americans who don't believe that at all.

That's why the North saga is divisive and why it will continue for so long.

That's also why the saga is such a sad one. When you get right to the core of the matter, Col. Oliver North is not an heroic figure at all; he is really a pathetic one.

SWITCHING GEARS a bit, we present some closing Nuts and Jolts from Hod Shewell:

—A yawn is boredom tried on for sighs.

—The world is full of con artists who make money the old fashioned way...they steal it.

—Junk mail too often are the answers you get from your congressman.

Chamber, MEA Feel Legislature Will Produce Finance Reform Plan

By Warren M. Hoyt
Michigan Press Association

Two of the most influential players in the Legislature's school finance reform debate said recently they are confident a solution will be reached, and they are not considering petition drives of their own to place a proposal before the voters.

Michigan Education Association Director of Government Affairs Al Short said a petition drive is not being contemplated. If there is going to be any proposal, he said it will be from the Legislature, and will have to be done before June 1 in order to be placed on the August primary ballot.

"I am very positive we are going to work this thing out," he said. "I think we are close. It is a matter of just putting some pieces together."

"We have accomplished a great deal the past week and may have something within the next week or 10 days. There's a settlement out there; it's just going to take us a little time to work it out. We're going to concentrate on the legislative process."

State Chamber of Commerce President James Barrett, who also agrees the Legislature may still come to a consensus, said the petition drive "isn't in our stable of options that we are actively pursuing right now."

However, he said, it is not an impossibility. "We would never totally rule out the option of a petition effort. But that certainly is not the preferred method of dealing with the issue and we will continue our efforts to try and reach a legislative solution. We feel it can be resolved in the legislative process."

"We're committed to that. We don't want anyone to view us as holding out the petition effort as a threat. That would be counter-productive."

Barrett said representatives of the Chamber, which is in support of the Senate-approved, bipartisan plan, are involved in discussions with various legislators and other groups interested in solving the finance problem. He declined to elaborate on participants.

Short said the MEA, which is in support of the House Democratic plan, is also heavily involved in negotiations and has spent a great deal of time in the last week talking to legislators, particularly House Republicans and their leadership.

"We endorsed a good number of them in the last election and are asking...why they aren't supporting (SJR) 'K' and what they feel their concerns have been included."

But when they successfully passed an amendment to SJR 'K' which would place a constitutional ban on imposing a sales tax on services, Short said he was surprised that no Republican votes were swayed. "I was amazed that they didn't put their votes up and at least put it into conference (committee)," he said.

Though organizations of the size and magnitude of the Chamber and the MEA would seem the logical forces behind such a drive, Short pointed out that it takes "tremendous" organizational strength to obtain the necessary signatures, which would have to be collected by early July for the August vote.

"There is only one organization in the state who has that capability and that's MEA," he said.

Some 239,657 signatures would be needed to place a proposal to amend the constitution on the ballot. That number is 10 percent of the total vote cast for governor in 1986.

Visit Uptown Grayling For Spring Walk '88

Spring and flowers. The two just naturally go together. After the gray cold of winter, there's no more welcome sight than the color and beauty of spring.

Grayling's Uptown Merchants are celebrating the arrival of Spring on Friday and Saturday, May 20 and 21 with a Spring Flower Walk that winds through some of Milltown's oldest landmarks and into many of the newest businesses on main street.

You will be greeted with special demonstrations and displays, with in-store sales, and best of all with flowers. Hundreds of them will brighten the entire uptown area. It's our way of saying welcome to spring and to you. Join the celebration by strolling through the stores and shops hosting this year's Spring Walk.

Celebration features flowers and displays for festive touch.

Stencil Sampler

You can start your walk at the Ice House, where Dawn Goodrich will be demonstrating how to use stencils to brighten wood and fabric items, too. It's easy, she says. Even beginners can come out looking like real artists.

Dawn will be stenciling from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday.

Spring Walk Days are also a perfect time to see the many new quilting patterns from the National Quilt Market. Or to admire Marion Welsh's Sesquicentennial creation featured recently in Country Quilts Magazine.

Swap and Stitch

Here's a novel way to share your leftover yard and create a unique color blend at the same time. Irishman's Shanty is sponsoring a "Yarn Swap" for knitters who want to bring in their odds and ends and mix and match them to create colorful items that rival nature's bouquets.

Walkers will also see creative handwork in progress, both oil painting and the popular sweatshirt painting, along with machine knitting and the newest Pretty Patch embroidery. Rosemary Gallagher also promises some in-store specials to welcome customers.

Great Cover-up

Spring is the time to shed those heavy winter clothes and show a little more skin. Mac's Drugs now carries a full line of Dermablend Corrective Cosmetics to make the transition a little smoother and they are offering them all at 20 percent off during Spring Walk.

Shannon McNamara says the cosmetics are as effective in covering facial flaws as they are in concealing varicose veins. So the product is wonderful for those who thought they couldn't wear those summer shorts any longer. Store testers are available to help you get a perfect match for your skin tone.

Milltown Landmark

Dawson Drugs has been serving the Grayling community in the same location for over 51 years, in the building which Devere Dawson's family owned during the 1800's. This year, they will be featuring selected in-store specials to celebrate the arrival of spring.

If your walk works up a thirst, it would be a good time to stop at the store's old-fashioned soda fountain for a timeless treat.

The Living Past

No walk through Uptown Grayling would be complete without a stop at the Shoppenagon Hotel, where flowers will decorate the community's meeting place named in memory of a chief of the Chippewa Tribe.

David Shoppenagon was a credit to his race who did much toward the opening and developing of this region of Michigan. Although he made his home in Grayling during the last 40 years of his life, all of the Northland was his hunting ground. He was born near Swan Creek in Saginaw County between 1800 and 1810 and died in Grayling on Christmas Day in 1911.

New Neighbors on the Block

Take time out from your walk to welcome Grayling's newest main street addition, Buccilli's Pizzeria, and to meet manager Denise Buccilli. She and her staff of 10 employees are preparing pizzas and subs seven days a week from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. with weekend hours extended to 1 a.m.

You can dine in, take out or have it delivered to your home after 4 p.m. Denise reminds Grayling customers that it's always two pizzas for the price of one at Buccilli's. That includes all sizes.

Designing People

Flowers by Josie and Grey Goose Gifts gives you an opportunity to watch beauty in the making with demonstrations of floral design and calligraphy during the Spring Walk celebration. It's a chance to see how those high style and personalized floral arrangements, the shop's trademark, are created.

Ernie Dawson and Lancia Rubin also invite you to enjoy the season's latest selection of unique gift items and special collectibles that make each visit to the store something special.

May Models

Live in-store models will show how great you can look in the spring and summer fashions from Kathleen's Plus Fashions and Ivie Girl. The local models from Northern Image will be seen in the window and walking through the adjoining stores, says Kathy Ashton.

An added feature for the Spring Walk is a sale on Citron summer jeans in pastel colors to match the season's flowers. The fashion jeans for every figure are available in sizes 3 to 40 for just $29.99.

Rings and Things

As you continue along your Spring Walk, enjoy watching an artist at work in Davis Jewellers where there will be demonstrations of casting and making rings using the lost wax process.

To add to the excitement, Jim Shepler is offering a 20 percent discount on all loose stones, handmade rings or remounts ordered during Spring Walk Days. The choice of stones and designs is as varied as a summer flower garden and they last longer.

Let the Sunshine In

Now that sunny days are back, it's time to pay attention to windows again. Cora Flowers and Pam Sandek at Penelope's will be highlighting their ideas for dressing up windows on both Friday and Saturday.

You can learn how to create your own unique window treatments with a custom look by making use of pointers supplied by the pros. At the same time you can pick up lots of other suggestions about how to brighten rooms to match the sunny outdoors.

Fashion and More

Continuing your Spring Walk brings you to Personalized Fashions, a recent addition to Grayling's retail community. Anna Mae and David R. Rowe will be featuring men's slacks, sport shirts and walking shorts along with ladies' blouses and coordinates in Missy and Petite sizing.

Fashions aren't the only highlight of the new store. Gift items, collectibles and special occasion balloons bring a festive touch. An added service is tuxedo rental for those spring and summer weddings.

Spring Facelift

Jim and Joyce Bourrie of the Grayling Restaurant really took their spring cleaning seriously this year. The whole place has a fresh new look, starting with the renovated storefront, through the redecorated dining room and into the shiny new stainless steel kitchen.

But the menu still features the old favorites fresh homemade soups, full dinners, and the famous Lumberjack breakfast served all day long. Check out the luncheon and supper specials during Spring Walk Days.

ABWA Gives Away $1250 In Scholarships

Mayor Robert Golinick has issued a proclamation declaring May as ABWA Education Month in Grayling.

In his statement, Mayor Golinick saluted the members of the American Business Women's Association (ABWA) and particularly the members of Grayling Charter Chapter, for their supportive efforts in helping women advance through education and for developing an informed and responsible citizenry.

The Grayling Charter Chapter recognized the educational advancement of women at its May meeting on Tuesday, May 17th. During the past year Grayling Charter Chapter has funded local scholarship awards totaling over $1,250. Recent local award recipients are Lotus Young, who will be attending Central Michigan University to get her teaching certification, and Grayling High School Senior Theresa Matthews, who will be attending Ferris State University in the fall to study Pharmacy.

ABWA is actively concerned with the achievement and advancement of women through education. Last year ABWA's more than 2,000 chapters awarded in excess of 42 million in scholarships. In addition, ABWA's national scholarship fund, SBMEF, awarded scholarship amounts surpassing $2.5 million since its inception in 1953.

Any women interested in belonging to ABWA, or attending a meeting can call president Mickey Perez at (517) 348-2811 during business hours.

Callewaert Announces Candidacy For County Commission Seat

Joseph Callewaert, 45, has announced his candidacy for Crawford County Commissioner representing District Four. District Four is the largest geographic area of any County district, encompassing Lovells, South Branch, and Grayling Townships, at the eastern end of Crawford County.

Born and raised in Michigan, Callewaert successfully completed his graduate work in government, earning a Master's Degree in Public Administration. His family makes their home on Chase Bridge Road where he resides with his wife Jean.

Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Konzer of South Branch Township.

Callewaert, who has experience in planning and zoning at the local level, says, "My relatives, and a large number of my friends, are living on fixed incomes. I've seen first hand their struggle to pay their taxes and keep the homes they've worked so hard to build and maintain. It's a strange, if not cruel system, that penalizes the citizens that improve their homes."

"I view this public office as one of a servant, who represents the position of those whom he serves. Please let me be your voice in Crawford County for the next two years."

Bits of Talk

By Sandy McAnallen

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morley, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Carver, and daughter, Jessica spent a couple of days with their mother, Aileen Pond over Mother's Day.

I learned this week of another proud grandfather. Brian Ashton became a grandfather April 14, 1988. His granddaughter, Chelsea Rachael lives with her mom and dad, Bob and Bethany Ureke of Grand Rapids.

Joseph Shupe and Corinne Cotter were in town this past weekend from Brighton, Michigan, visiting with Corinne's parents, Jack and Thelma Martin of Manistee Lake. Corinne enjoys coming to Grayling to listen to Brian Ashton and Southern Pride play country music.

Joyce Sorenson, Lois LaGrow, Dorothy McLeod, and Wilma LaGrow returned recently from a trip to the Hawaiian Islands. They boarded a cruise liner, the SS Constitution, and cruised the Pacific Ocean for one week before they arrived at the island of Oahu. They resided for one week at the Hawaiian Regency Hotel on Waikiki Beach. Tours and parties took up most of their time while they were there so they were too busy to go surfing. They did, however, travel to other islands including Maui, Hawaii, and Kauai. While on Maui, Dorothy McLeod bought a t-shirt that read, "Here today gone to Maui." They also visited a Polynesian culture center they reported to be very beautiful and enlightening. One night they took in a "Luau", complete with roast pig, native dancing and drinks in a pineapple with an umbrella!

A.J. (Bud) Sorenson has been honored for having served 50 years as a licensed funeral director in the state of Michigan. At the Michigan Funeral Directors convention which he and Mrs. Sorenson attended at the Grand Rapids' Amway Plaza on May 4 and 5, he was presented a plaque by the president of the National Funeral Directors of America.

Richard and Marcia Sullivan and children, John, Kirsten, Matthew and Ryan, of Marlette, spent one day last week with her parents, Bud and Doris Sorenson. For those of you who know John and the misfortune he suffered, the family is happy to report some improvement in his condition. He is now able to stand with help, having pushed himself out of bed on to his feet when Marcia first discovered it. Richard has returned to college and is attending Delta College studying respiratory therapy.

There is going to be a gathering of the retired staff of the Crawford AuSable School District on June 4. Retired teachers like Art Thayer, Katy Funck, Betty Millikin and Fay Bovee are rumored to be among those planning to attend.

The Literacy Network is going to have a float for the Milltown parade this year. They need some helpers to build the float. Grayling area students who would like something really fun and something creative to do this summer should give Lorna or Liz a call at the Literacy Network, 348-5459, and offer their help. This would be an excellent way to get involved in the Milltown Festival this summer.

Fifteen children celebrated their first communion last Sunday at St. Mary's Catholic Church. Father Jerry gathered all the young celebrants on the rug in front of him by the altar to talk with them. The girls in their white dresses and veils and the boys in their suits were a truly moving sight. Many extended families traveled from other areas to witness this very special occasion and the church was filled to capacity. Those receiving their first communion were: Krista Alef, Grace Galvani, Valerie Henning, Leone Kraus, Samantha Millikin, Jamie Reed, Cy Wakeley, Julia McAnallen, Katy Fritz, Minard Harwood, Andy Hunter, Danielle McClain, Ravi Ramaswamy, Jason Rutter, and Mark Gingerick.

Carol and Bill Boone's son, James, is going to Japan as a representative of the international 4-H club. James is looking forward to this trip.

ONLY GLOWCORE HAS THE RIGHT CONNECTION.

Introducing UniCore — our new integrated heating system that connects the furnace and the water heater. UniCore revolutionizes home heating by combining the efficiencies of our gas furnace and water heater into one extraordinarily efficient home comfort system.

THE SECRET'S IN OUR SINGLE BURNER

Because the furnace and water heater are interconnected, UniCore heats your home and your water with a single burner. Other systems require two burners which do twice the work and burn twice the gas.

LOWER OPERATING COSTS

Older heating systems are 55-65% efficient. Standard high efficiency systems (80-95% AFUE) can save 20-35% on fuel bills. By combining water heating and space heating, UniCore saves even more — as much as 30-45% on fuel bills.

COMPLETE HOME COMFORT

UniCore heats your whole house and provides enough hot water for cooking, dishwashing, laundering and bathing. An average family of four can do all this on our 30-gallon, fast-recovery water heater without running out of hot water.

GIVE US A CALL

And compare GlowCore to Lennox and Carrier. Only GlowCore has the right space and water heating connection — the new UniCore integrated heating system.

GHS Softball Team Wins Three in Row

The Grayling girls softball team, in its first year, won three games in a row last week, including their first league victory.

Grayling swept a doubleheader from Boyne City 10-9 and 5-3 and also beat Charlevoix 18-3 in the second game of a doubleheader.

The Vikings lost the first game to Charlevoix 9-8 and only the first game of the doubleheaders count toward league standings.

In the first game against Boyne, Deanne Phelps got the win limiting Boyne to 4 hits. Janice LaDuke, with 3 hits, and A.J. Pratt and Kris Partello, with 2 hits each, led the hitting. Patti Tremblay hit Grayling's first home run of the year.

In the second game, Lori Gust got the win on 3-hit pitching. Dawn Liberty led the team with 2 hits.

Against Charlevoix, the Vikings used 18 walks to help score 18 runs in the second game win. Lori Gust got the win.

In the previous week, Grayling lost to Petoskey 27-13 and had the second game called for darkness. Grayling also lost to Boyne City 9-4 in the first game and won 11-4 in the second game. Rogers City took a doubleheader from Grayling 18-0 and 14-12.

Errors Cost Vikings In Doubleheader Losses

Errors hurt Grayling in doubleheaders losses to Sault Ste. Marie Saturday, 9-7 and 7-0, and Charlevoix on May 10, 6-0 and 5-4.

In the first game, Chris Skidmore limited the Soo to only 5 hits. Just three of the nine runs were earned by the Soo.

Jeff Wolcott, with a home run, and Mike McNamara each had 2 hits to lead Grayling in the first game.

In the second game, Bob Butler led the team with 2 hits.

Against Charlevoix, errors scored the winning run in the last inning of the second game for Charlevoix. Skidmore had 8 strikeouts and didn't give up any earned runs in the loss.

McNamara had a home run and another single to lead the team in hitting in the second game.

In the first game, Jeff Palmer gave up only 3 hits and 1 earned run in the loss. The Vikings only got 3 hits and Butler had 2 of them.

SPORTS FANS!

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By John Scheer

Here's an oddity...The biggest paid attendance for any baseball game in history was NOT for a World Series game or even a regular season game — but for an exhibition game...The all-time baseball attendance record of 93,103 was set at an exhibition game between the Dodgers and Yankees in the Los Angeles Coliseum in 1959, honoring Roy Campanella...No other baseball game has ever topped that, before or since.

Did you know that the famous American food — the hot dog — was invented because of sports?...A man named Harry Stevens was in charge of the concessions at New York baseball games in the early 1900s, and one day it was cool and he wasn't selling much cold food... That was all they had at ball parks in those days...During the game he went shopping for something warm he could sell...Up to that time, hot dogs were unknown... First, Stevens bought sausage at a neighborhood butcher shop, and then he added rolls so the fans could hold the sausages — and the hot dog was born...The name "hot dog" was coined by sports cartoonist Tad Dorgan who was at the game that day.

16 Ways To Save $ On Your Auto Premiums

By Gail Edwards, Extension Home Economist
Cooperative Extension Service 348-2841 ext. 264.

Deductibles. Choose the largest reasonable deductible. The deductible is the amount of a claim that the insured agrees to pay. If you raise the collision deductible from $200 to $500, you could lower the collision portion of the premium about 20 percent. Raising it from $200 to $1,000 could reduce the premium about 45 percent. Before you do this, ask yourself if you could afford to pay a higher deductible in the event of a claim.

Collision Coverage. Cars that are seven years old or older may have depreciated so much that they may not be worth insuring for collision.

Desirable Cars. Keep insurance costs in mind when shopping for a new car. Premiums are usually higher for autos with high collision or bodily injury claims and those that are common targets of thieves.

Insurance Institute for Highway Safety complies loss data on 200 automobile makes and models. Consumers can obtain this information by writing to the Institute at: Watergate 600, Suite 300, Washington, D.C. 20037.

Multicar Discount. Consumers insuring more than one car in the household with the same insurer can save up to 20 percent.

Insuring Young Drivers. When young people are away at school, it's generally cheaper to include them on the parents' policy rather than insure them separately because young drivers who attend school at least 100 miles from home are infrequent users of the family car.

Mature Driver Credit. Drivers age 50 and older may qualify for up to a 10 percent discount. Statistics show that older drivers are involved in fewer accidents.

Passive Restraints. Some companies offer discounts ranging from 10 to 30 percent for vehicles equipped with automatic seat belts and air bags.

Good driver Discounts. Savings are available to motorists with accident- and violation-free records and to motorists driving fewer than a certain number of miles per year.

Car pooling. Commuters who share driving responsibilities may qualify for discounts.

Education. Motorists who successfully complete driver training or defensive driving courses may be eligible for discounts of as much as 10 percent. Young drivers may qualify for a "good student" discount of up to 25 percent. Being a "good student" generally means maintaining a B average and being on the dean's list or honor roll.

Account Credit. Consumers who insure their homes and autos with the same company could be eligible for a discount of up to 10 percent.

First Accident Allowance. If a customer achieves five accident-free years, some insurers offer a "first accident allowance" that guarantees that a motorist's rates won't go up after one at-fault accident.

Anti-Theft Device Credits. Discounts of 5 to 15 percent are offered in some states for autos equipped with a hood lock and an alarm or a disabling device that prevents the car from being stolen.

Sole Female Driver. Some companies offer 10 percent discounts to women, aged 30 to 64, who are the only drivers in their households.

Non-smokers and non drinkers. Some companies offer discounts to policyholders who abstain from drinking and smoking.

Optional Coverage. Consumers could decide not to purchase medical payments coverage if their health insurance is comprehensive enough to cover potential claims.

COOR SCHOLARSHIPS — Margarita Perez (soph) and Jeni Doty (jr) were two of four students from the C.O.O.R. Intermediate School District to receive C.O.O.R. scholarships to attend Michigan Technological University's Women in Engineering Workshop this summer. David Bentley (soph) was one of four C.O.O.R.-area students to receive a C.O.O.R. scholarship to attend Northern Michigan University's Seaborg Summer Science Academy.

To be eligible for these summer programs, students must be sophomores or juniors, have taken two years of mathematics with at least a B+ average and submit a letter of recommendation from a mathematics or science teacher.

The Michigan Lottery receives a lot of inquiries about its various games. The following addresses questions on instant games:

Q: Why do they offer mostly small prizes now?

A: Research found instant game players prefer lower odds and many smaller prizes. Players seeking large prizes tend to play other Lottery games.

Q: Are all instant games the same?

A: No. Players like variety, so the six games offered each year have different names, ticket designs, prize structures and other distinct features.

Q: Will there be more wheel spin games?

A: Yes, this is a feature of our newest instant game, "Spin to Win", which begins May 17.

Q: What prizes will the next game have?

A: Equalling the highest payout of any game yet offered by the Michigan Lottery, it will provide more than $15 million in prizes. In addition to millions of $2, $5, $10 and $50 awards, there will also be 50 chances to spin a money wheel for prizes ranging from $5,000 to $25,000.

Q: How do you get the chance to spin?

A: A player becomes eligible to try the money wheel with three "SPIN" symbols on a single ticket. Wheel spins will be conducted at various locations around the state and the public will be invited.

Q: What will the odds be in the next game?

A: The best in any Michigan Lottery game yet, odds in "Spin to Win" are almost one in three that any ticket will be a cash prize or free ticket winner. This does not necessarily mean that, if you buy three tickets at the same time, one will be a winner. It means that nearly one third of tickets printed are winners. Winning tickets are randomly scattered during the printing process. So even the Lottery has no idea where they are located until the winners claim their prizes.

Q: How can I collect instant game prizes?

A: Any instant game prize up to $600 can be collected immediately at nearly 8,000 Lottery retailers throughout the state. Wheel spin winners can file a claim through any Lottery retailer or at any of seven Lottery regional offices.

For asking the question leading to this column, Ross Fulton of Brohman, MI, will receive 50 free tickets in the "Spin to Win" instant game.

If you have a question not yet covered in these columns, send it to: "Winner's Circle", Michigan Lottery, P.O. Box 30077, Lansing, MI 48909.

Our biggest decision was motorhome or travel trailer, not where to get an RV loan.

“Then we made the right move and chose NBD.”

“We’d walked through enough RVs and paged through so many brochures, we could have designed our own unit.”

“By the time we settled on what we wanted, we’d hardly given a thought to where we’d go for financing. We figured one RV loan was about the same as the next.”

“Some friends of ours told us about the great deal they got from NBD. So we decided to give them a try.”

“We met with the people at the bank and spent a good hour or so talking about all the different financing options. It was time well spent, because we found out there’s more to an RV loan than getting what sounds like the lowest rate.”

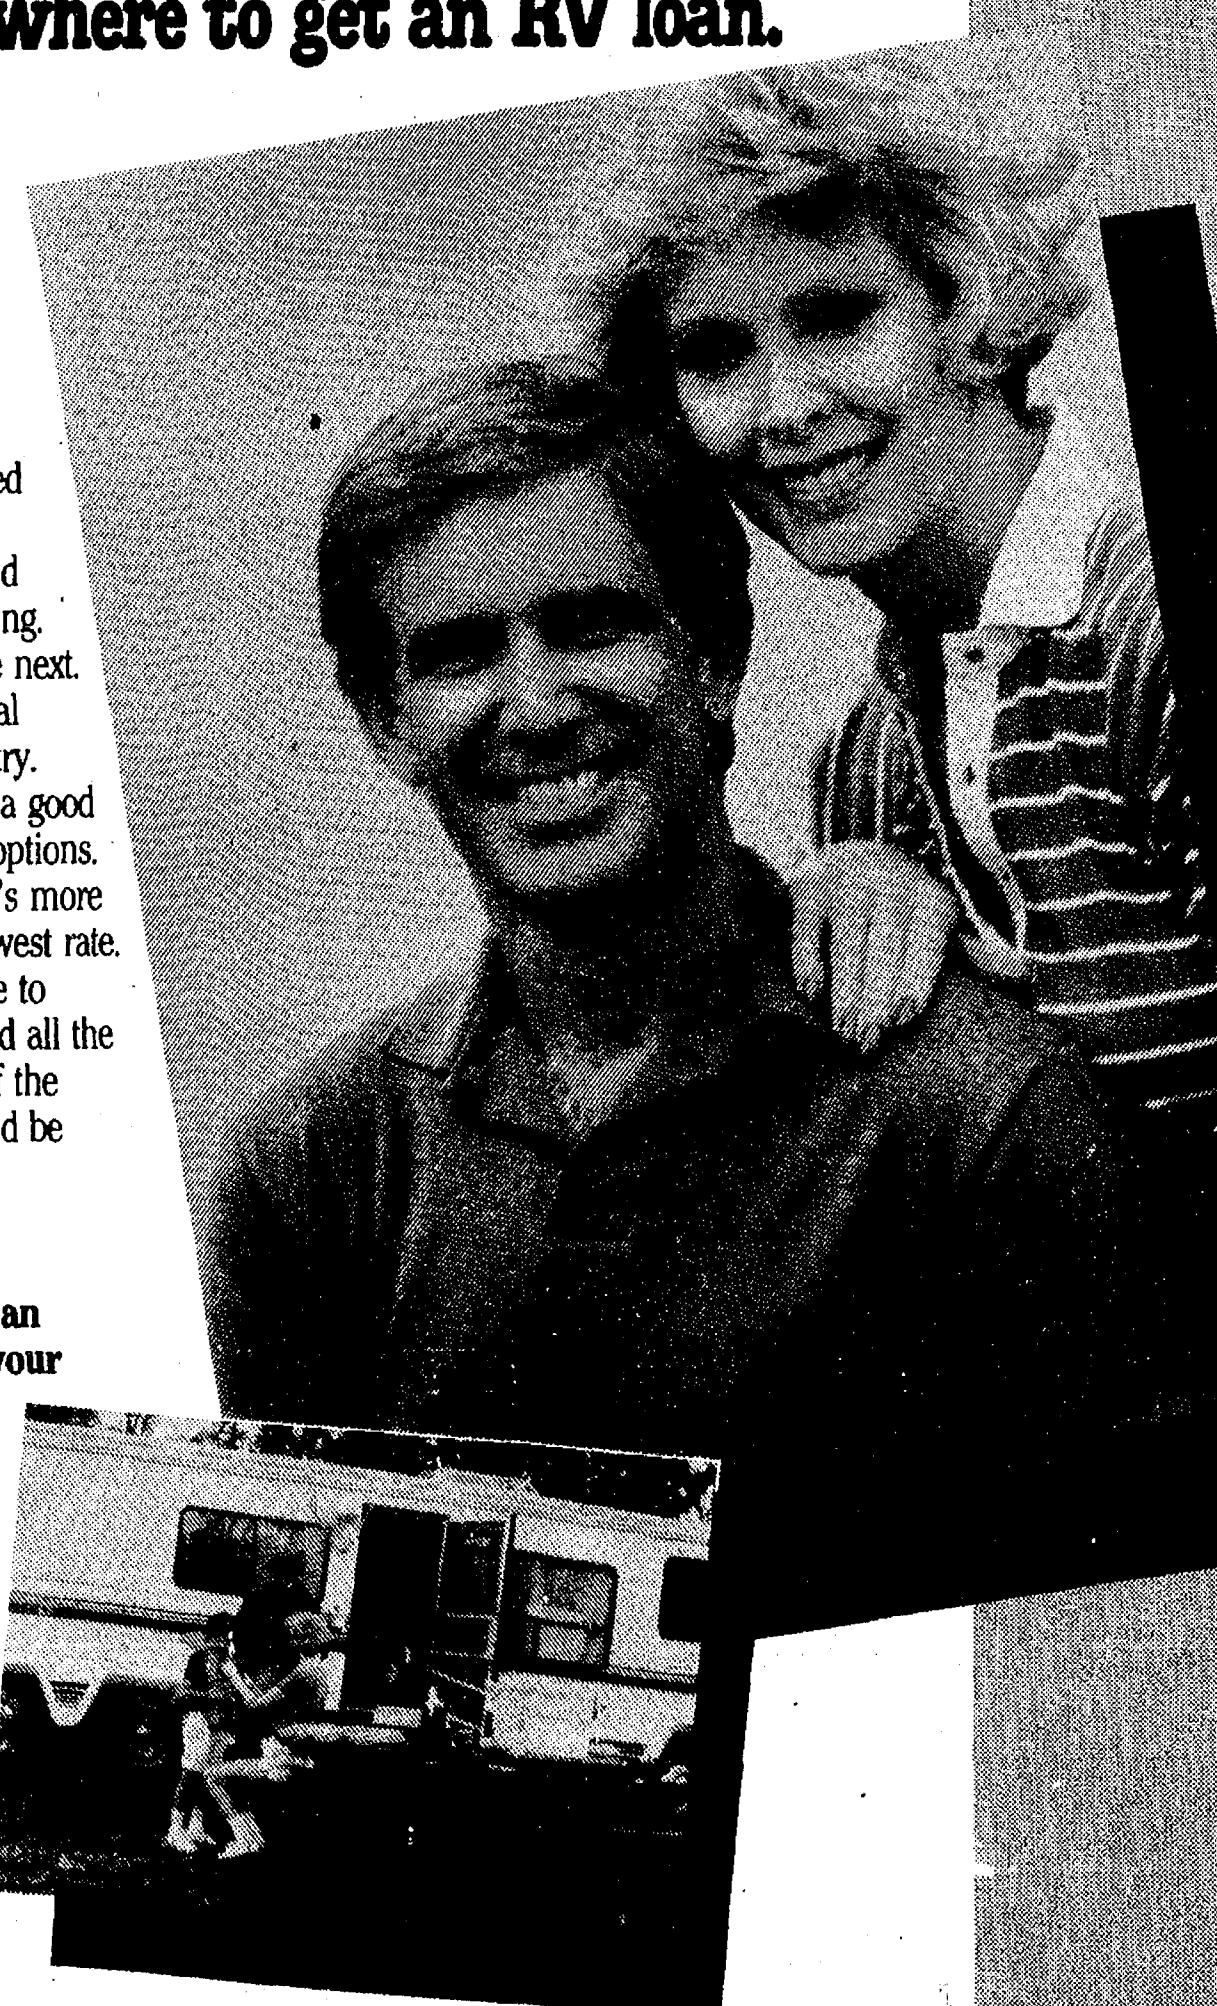

“The loan officer at the bank really took the time to make sure we were satisfied with our payments and all the other details. We came away with the feeling that if the bank put this much attention into our RV loan, we’d be smart to do more business there.”

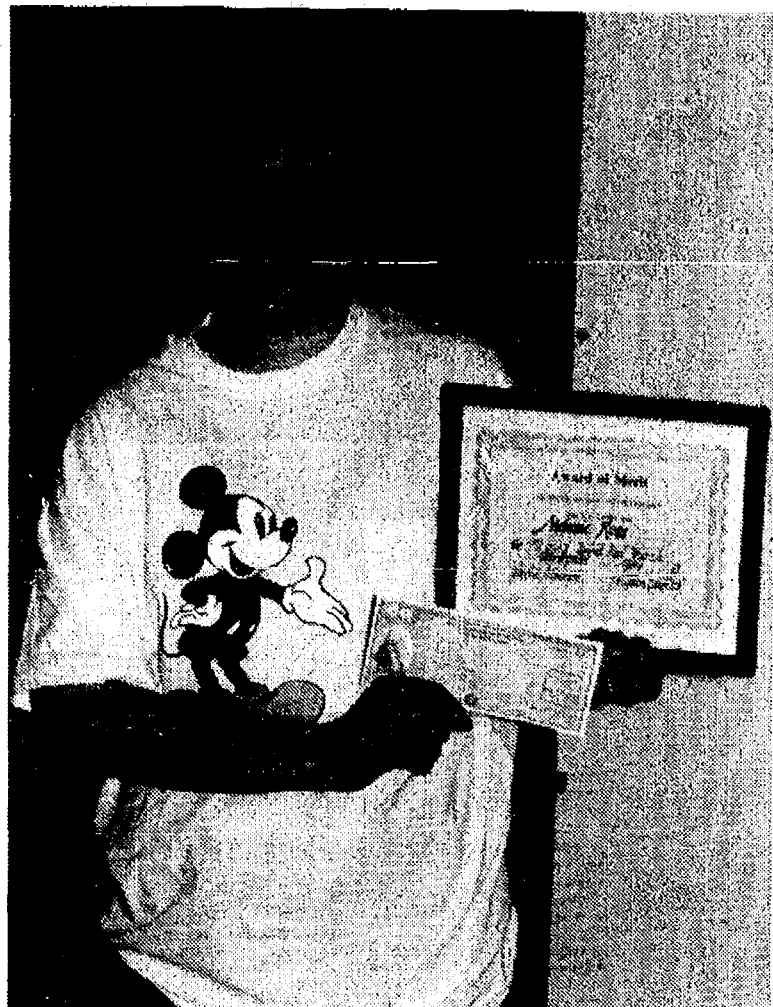

“Now we’re doing all our banking at NBD.”

“We made the right move.”

Today, you have more banking choices than ever. At NBD, we have to be better to earn your business. Make the right move, and make NBD your first choice for an RV loan—for all your financial needs.

Ross Wins 'Great Kid' Disney Search Contest

Melanie Ross, 11, daughter of Dave and Karen Ross of Grayling, was notified Wednesday, May 11, that she had been selected co-winner of the "Great Kid Search" contest sponsored by TV 29 and 8 in Traverse City. The second winner is a 14-year-old Fife Lake boy.

Melanie became a contestant when her mother wrote a letter stating why she felt her daughter was a great kid. In her letter, Karen wrote about Melanie's love for music and the performing arts. She plays the piano and flute, and enjoys singing and jazz dancing. While in second grade Melanie auditioned, along with 80 other children, for one of six orphan parts in the Grayling High School production of "Annie," and was chosen to play Tessie. Her dream is to pursue an acting and singing career.

At the conclusion of Karen's letter she described her daughter as, "one who is not afraid to work toward a goal." She said, Melanie is talkative and loving. She has her moments, as we all do, but she is quick to realize when she is at fault. Apologies and new beginnings come easily for Melanie."

Melanie was selected from 70 other applicants. Her prizes include an Outstanding Achievement Award, a $50 U.S. Savings Bond, and Melanie will be hosting the Wonderful World of Disney May 23-25. The children's television program, with a viewing audience of about 17,000, is shown weekdays at 5:00 p.m. on TV channel 29 and 8. Melanie will also be seen in several promotional commercials airing May 16-20.

Eye Care News

BY: RICHARD FERRIGAN
CERTIFIED OPTICIAN

WHEN DISTANT OBJECTS BLUR

QUESTION: Most of the time I can see things clearly but when they're too far away all I see is a blur. Does that mean that I'm nearsighted?

ANSWER: Yes, you are probably nearsighted to some degree. But an eye examination would be needed to determine just how nearsighted you are. People with normal vision in both eyes have 20/20 vision. What they see at 20 feet is what the normal eye sees at 20 feet. But when someone is nearsighted, he may have to be as close as two feet, or even closer, to see things clearly. It all depends on the degree of nearsightedness. Sometimes one eye is more nearsighted than the other. That's why both eyes are examined together and separately before corrective glasses are prescribed.

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John

Part No. 33

False Faith of Unbelief
Why did the multitudes who followed Jesus miss his message of salvation? They looked for the wrong miracle, (John 6:30), instead of accepting the miracles Jesus did. They looked for the wrong manna. (John 6:31). They wanted their stomach filled rather than their heart. They looked at the wrong man, rejecting Jesus Christ and pointing back at Moses. (John 6:32). They missed Jesus Christ as the "bread of God" which came down from heaven to give life unto the world. (John 6:33).

How did they miss Jesus Christ as the bread of life when they professed to desire such bread? (John 6:34). Jesus made His claims very clear: "And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst." (John 6:35). Why did they pass up this invitation to end their spiritual hunger and thirst? Jesus said, "But I said unto you, that ye also have seen me, and believe not." (John 6:36). This multitude rejected Jesus Christ because of their unbelief in His words. One cannot call Jesus Christ Lord and a liar at the same time.

Why is Jesus Christ not discouraged by the unbelief of this multitude which has rejected His miracles, His person, and His words? Because God is still in control of salvation. "All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me." (John 6:37,38). Notice that those who truly come to Jesus Christ are responding to the united will of the Father and Son of God. The saved sinner is God's love gift to the Son. We can rest assured that the Son will not reject us as this love gift.

Salvation is not only the will of God for time, but for all eternity. "And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day." (John 6:39). Present salvation include future eternal life in both the soul and the resurrected body.

How can you know you possess this eternal life and salvation from sin? "And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day." (John 6:40). You can only know you are saved by exercising your responsibility to believe on Jesus Christ as your own personal savior. Cast yourself on the mercy of God and ask Him to save you today. "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him." (John 6:36).

Scripture Reference

John 20:19-23
The scene described in this Gospel reading by John sums up and fulfills the words of Jesus' talk before His Passion. Jesus announces that He is leaving, but He Himself will remain with His disciples. His action of breathing on them as a sign of the gift of the Holy Spirit gives new life to them and provides them a mission.

According to the normal Hebrew, to live means to have received a part of the breath of life from God. Some go as far as to interpret wind and breath as God. The Book of Genesis tells us: "The Lord God formed us out of the clay of the ground and blew into their nostrils the breath of life, and so we became a living being."

How should we interpret this gift of the Spirit on the evening of Easter, and what is the meaning of the mission given by Jesus to His disciples?

The gift of the holy Spirit starts a new life. We might ask why did Jesus give the gift of the Holy Spirit to His disciples before Pentecost. Pentecost keeps all its meaning because it is the official beginning of the Church. But this creation is not a sudden creation. It continues. It began with a birth, develops, and will never stop developing until the end of human history.

The Spirit began to be born in all of us with Christ Himself. Then the Holy Spirit, sometimes called the soul of the church, has made known His presence. The gift of the Holy Spirit by Jesus to the assembled disciples is a moment of birth in the Church. We should always ask ourselves, "Are we aware of the Holy Spirit in us or to His action?"

In the Gospel of John, the mission given to the disciples is one of forgiving sins. But we must understand what is sin. Certainly there is question of our resistance of God's will which ends in our doing wrong, what we would call a sin. But in the view of John, there is also the much more serious sin of refusing to believe in Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

One of the parts of the mission of the disciples is, first of all, to proclaim the Word which gives us faith and then to explain the judgement. We are disciples, according to whether this faith is accepted or rejected; for determining whether we are in God's friendship or moving away from it. We have the power to judge whether an individual according to our faith in Jesus Christ the Savior is able to receive God's pardon and God's friendship, of which we all are the ministers.

On To Maturity

The writer of Hebrews' phrase, "let us... go on to maturity" (Hebs. 6:1) has meaning for all people, especially that long-suffering group of people known as parents. I'm convinced Mark Twain put his finger on what causes parents to suffer when he said,

"When I was fourteen I thought my dad was the most ignorant man in the world. But when I became twenty-one I was amazed how much the old man had learned in seven short years."

That reality of such an experience not only causes pain in parents, it also produces maturity, because maturity comes from being able to survive some of the frustrations that come from parenting children, especially during teenage years.

Yet, when the children follow Hebrews' advice and "go on to maturity," then the parents experience a growing maturity that comes precisely because they have hung with the growing children.

And both children and parents ultimately come to know the joy of being family; of being "maturing family."

IN OTHER BUSINESS, COMMISSIONERS: —Learned we are no longer eligible for tax exempt bonds; however, the interest rate is 8.15%. The Bond Authority says we should have our funds by May.

—Discussed with Bernard Fowler many concerns both as a citizen and pilot using the airport. He reviewed the 1981 Interlocal Agreement and also stated he felt the grant to be used for resurfacing the runways should have a guarantee that the general aviation will have use of the airfield for a period long enough to recover costs.

—Received proposals on new chassis for the ambulances. It was decided to wait until all bids are in before a decision is made.
—Were informed that Treasurer Wakeley will be participating in the American Conference of Young Political Leaders on Foreign Policies on June 2 & 3 in Washington, D.C.
—Were presented, the 1987 Annual Report on the NO MI Substance Abuse Services, Inc. from Executive Director Dennis Priess. A grant has been received to provide services to Camp Shawano and the High School and will be administered by Community Family & Children's Services.

—Were informed Comm. Kitchen has been appointed to serve on the Joint Landfill Board - her experience in the recycling coalition is an asset.
—Heard brief up-dates from various other committees.

CENSUS UPDATE
The Environmental Protection Agency has noted some concern about the potential for lead in drinking water throughout the country. By following the procedures described below, consumers can easily eliminate the potential risk of lead in their drinking water.

The Problem: Under some conditions, it is possible that commercial and residential copper plumbing and lead service piping could allow potentially harmful amounts of lead to taint drinking water.

The Solution: Whenever your water has not been used for several hours, be sure to flush your faucets typically for one or two minutes until fresh water is evident, as indicated by its turning colder. This procedure will remove lead that may have dissolved from your pipes. While there is a difference of opinion among many experts regarding the use of hot water, it should be pointed out that some experts feel that there is an increased risk of lead exposure when using water from hot water systems that meet the criteria below. Some people prefer not to use hot water from the systems for cooking or drinking.

Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:
If your home or water system has lead pipes, or If your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and -if the home is less than five years old, or -if you have soft or acidic water, or
-if water sits in the pipes for several hours.

The Michigan Department of Public Health feels there is no reason for alarm or overreaction to the lead issue and that the simple yet effective flushing of the potable water lines routinely each morning will reasonably allow the public to avoid potential unnecessary exposure to drinking water contaminated with lead from the piping components.

Random sampling throughout the State by the Michigan Department of Public Health has confirmed the presence of lead in drinking water from certain piping systems where the water has remained stagnant for a period of time. Levels in excess of the current drinking water standard (0.050 parts per million) have been detected in some taps. Laboratory testing has shown that the principal sources of lead are lead piping and lead based solders and fluxes used to join copper piping. The plumbing industry and homeowners who may construct potable drinking water piping systems must no longer use lead based solders and fluxes for joining copper piping. Other solder materials or joining methods are available and must be used. Lead piping has not been allowed for new installations for about the last ten years. Building copper piping water systems constructed to date may contain lead based solder and flux.

Drinking water pumped by the City of Grayling and delivered to the service connections in your home has no detectable levels of lead. However, water is the universal solvent and even relatively stable water when stagnant for a period of a few hours in contact with lead solder and flux can result in an increased risk of exposure to lead from the water.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm) based on new health information. EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly. Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

Besides lead in water from certain piping systems, there are other exposure pathways to lead including air, food and nonfood items. It should be noted that the major source of lead exposure and lead poisoning in the United States is due to children consuming lead based paint chips.

People who may have concerns about the concentration of lead from their building of household piping may wish to contact a reputable private laboratory for water analysis. Others who may have specific concerns relative to any possible health effects are urged to contact their physician.

For more information about this matter, you may call the Environmental Protection Agency hotline at 1-800-426-4791. Customers of the City of Grayling Water System may call A. Donald Sorenson at 348-2131.

The minutes of the previous meeting of March 18, 1988 were read. Commissioner Cason made a motion to accept the minutes as read, seconded by Commissioner Parker. All voted in favor, minutes approved.

Payroll Voucher Number 8 in the amount of $25,065.10 and Material checks numbered 13492 through 13558 in the amount of $18,610.50 were presented to the Board for approval of payment. Commissioner Parker made a motion to accept the vouchers, seconded by Commissioner Cason.

Discussion was held on equipment needs and Engineer-Manager Keir was instructed to prepare bid specifications for a used bulldozer and two single axle and one tandem truck.

Cletis Spears, Beaver Creek Township Supervisor, appeared before the Board regarding improvement of various roads in that township and also expressed concern about the railroad tracks on Four Mile Road. Mr. Keir informed him that he and a representative of the Railroad Company and Michigan Department of Transportation shall have an informal meeting on this issue with Mr. Spears.

Discussion was held on local roads and primary roads within the county. A list of primary roads to be updated to all season standards shall be drawn up so that priorities can be made, for possible long term solutions. This effort shall be closely coordinated with the direction of the Northeast Michigan Regional Rural Primary Task Force.

The Board of Crawford County Road Commission reviewed the financial policy regarding local road improvements; the cost of any materials such as gravel, blacktop, drainage structures shall be shared with the township. This shall take effect upon formal adoption.

Task Force priority has been decided upon for Crawford County. Namely, Sherman Road and part of County Road 612 and North Down River Road. These will be presented at the next Task Force meeting for consideration of funding.

Correspondence was reviewed from AT & T regarding fiber optic cable.

An estimate was received from the Roscommon County Road Commission of costs to improve a portion of Steckert Bridge Road. Contact shall be made with the Township Supervisor.

The Board authorized purchase of mobile radios to replace older units obtained in 1969.

BUDDY'S WORKSHOP

Decks Are Good Investments, But Require Maintenance

I've read putting a deck on your house will almost pay for itself, but just about everyone I know that has a deck complains about taking care of them. Between painting, staining, replacing rotted steps, and mildew problems, I'm not so sure it's a good investment after all. What's your opinion?

Building a deck can many times add to the value of your home, but, like any outdoor structure, it does require a bit of work to keep it in good condition. Remember that decks are made of wood (a natural material) and are therefore susceptible to mildew and rotting. Wood also has the ability to absorb humidity and rain. And, since it soaks up sun all summer long and is covered by snow during the winter, it's no wonder maintenance is needed.

Today, however, homeowners have a multitude of products from which to choose that make deck care much easier. Fungicides, cleaners, preservatives, and stains specially formulated for all types of decking are available at most hardware stores and home centers. There are also plenty of brochures, such as Deck Beauty Made Simple, that are free for the asking. To obtain this one, call Darworth's Consumer Service Department at 1-800-624-7767 or 1-800-228-7103 in Connecticut.

Is there some type of paint that isn't slick? I need to paint a ladder and I'm afraid if the ladder gets wet I won't be able to use it.

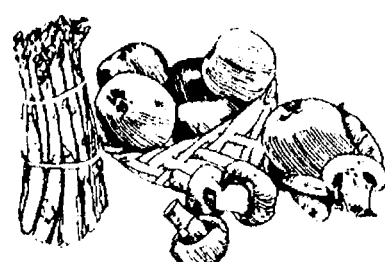

By all means DON'T paint your ladder. Paint will hide defects or cracks that can be dangerous. If you have to use something, use a clear wood preservative or even linseed oil, but never use paint.

For the life of me I can't get a knife sharp on a whetstone. Any tips on how to at least get a decent edge?

Unless you take the time to practice, you may never get a good edge on a whetstone. Try one of those scissor-type sharpeners, or one where the knife is stationary and the sharpening instrument is moved across the blade.

The gourmet onions are coming to the stores and must be enjoyed now for the season is very short. Vidalia onions from Georgia are most commonly found but look for the Texas 1015Y which should be available soon. These are alleged to be even sweeter and milder than the Vidalia. The Maui, or the Walla Walla. Try these onions baked in foil with butter and salt and pepper. Or try this onion-potatoe bake: Slice an onion and a scrubbed baking potatoe. Dip the onion slices in parmesan cheese and reassemble the potatoe with a slice of onion between the slices of potatoe. Dot with butter, wrap in foil and bake or put on the grill. Try layering a salmon fillet between two slices of sweet onion, sprinkling the fillet with a little dill weed, and bake until the fish flakes easily. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese and broil briefly until cheese melts.

A simple salad of sweet onion rings, sliced oranges and sliced avocado laced with a little french dressing is delicious. Here is another salad suggestion:

Velvety Sweet Salad

1/2 c. sliced almonds
3 Tbsp. sugar
1/2 head each, iceberg lettuce and romaine
1 c. chopped celery
1 sweet onion, sliced and separated into rings
1 can (11 oz.) mandarin oranges, drained
Cook almonds and sugar, stirring constantly, until sugar dissolves and crystallizes. Let cool. Combine all ingredients and toss with this dressing:
1/2 Tsp. salt
dash of pepper
1/4 c. salad oil

1 Tbsp. chopped parsley
2 Tbsp. sugar
2 Tbsp. vinegar
dash of tabasco sauce

Combine in small jar and shake well.

To make a quick onion quiche, slice 2 sweet onions into a buttered 10 inch pie plate or a 7 by 11 baking dish and sprinkle on 1 cup grated swiss cheese. In the blender combine 1 and 1/2 cups milk, 3 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 3/4 cup buttermilk biscuit mix. Blend until smooth and pour over onions. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 minutes or until center is firm. Let stand 5 minutes before cutting.

For serving a large group or for a potluck, try this salad. Can be made a day ahead.

Layered Garden Salad

2 c. coarsely chopped broccoli
2 c. coarsely chopped red or green cabbage
2 c. diced red or green peppers
1 can whole kernel corn, drained

Place each vegetable in a separate bowl. Combine 2/3 cup salad oil, 1/2 cup white wine vinegar, 1 clove garlic, crushed, 1 Tbsp. Dijon mustard, 1 Tsp. basil and 1/4 Tsp. pepper and divide among vegetables. Marinate 2 hours. With slotted spoon, drain excess dressing and layer broccoli, cabbage, peppers and corn in a trifle bowl. Top with crumbled blue or feta cheese and thinly sliced sweet onion rings.

With your next cookout, serve an appetizer made from one pound of swordfish or shark cut into one inch cubes and marinated in 1/2 cup olive oil and 2 tablespoons of fennel leaves. Thread on skewers, alternating fish with 1/2 a cherry tomatoe and grill one to three minutes, depending on thickness of the fish.

Poet's Corner New Life

How does one know when she's losing her mind,
She feels that she must turn and run,
But where does she go, and how does she know,
That things can be better for some?

She feels not a care for the beat of her heart,
Nor the life that her body contains,
How can she wait, depicting her fate,
While loneliness runs through her veins.

Then down on her knees, she prays to the Lord,
"Please help me, I need much more strength",
A tear from her eye, an unfiltered cry,
He listens to her, at great length.

And what did he do to relieve her,
To let this young woman start new,
He sent her a friend, to help her heart mend,
A person who needed her too.

Now they have learned about laughter,
And sharing in every small way,
He gave them new life, now husband and wife,
Together, they conquer each day.

Verse or Worse

By Joseph D. Murphy

Man of Steel

Is it so wrong for a man to cry
To show that he can feel
Who got the story started
That a man must be made of steel?

I see nothing wrong with crying
When you are feeling sad
Could be that you will find it
The best relief you've ever had.

I was in the hospital with a big tough man
That knew that he was dying
When I woke up in the middle of the night
I heard that big man crying.

When he realized I was awake
He tried to hide his tears
I got up and held his hand
We had our best cry in years.

The next day he was tough again
A so called man of steel
We each carried the secret
That both of us could feel.

Why do we tell our little boys
That big boys never cry
I am here to tell you
That it is all a lie.

Don't be afraid to show emotion
Let others know that you can feel
Let's get rid of the idea
That a man must be made of steel.

Anyone who takes a casual drive along our forest trails, especially those close to town, can't help but notice a tremendous amount of trash, garbage, junk and filth which is being deposited just about everywhere. The stuff takes the form of washing machines, stoves, broken concrete, mattresses, cans, bottles, old cars and in some cases a kitchen sink or two as well as household rubbish.

Pretty soon a few, more leaves, maybe some in plastic bags, show up. Then a pile of brush from a trimmed tree or shrub. Next, someone, one of your neighbors, decides to put an old chair at the spot because it's handier than disposing of it properly. Now we have another open dump on state land—your land.

As one observes this phenomenon, one thing becomes apparent. The messes seem to accumulate in certain spots, and almost invariably the mess started when someone dumped a load of leaves or grass clippings from their yard.

Ordinarily, no one would get concerned about a few leaves or grass clippings, but the situation has gotten to the point where everyone should get concerned.

The stance now being taken is that litter is litter, whether it is a load of leaves or a load of garbage. It is everyone's responsibility to preserve the quality of our environment.

Violation of the litter law, Act 106 of 1963, is a misdemeanor with a maximum fine of $400, plus court costs and/or 90 days in jail. The court may, at its discretion, assign litter-gathering labor as punishment for the crime.

Students Hatch 15 Chicks

When the students of Mrs. McEvers' third grade entered their classroom Thursday, May 12, they were greeted by a newly hatched Cochin chick. The students were excited, but not surprised. They have been anxiously awaiting the arrival of 15 Cochin and Plymouth Rock chicks for 22 days.

4-H Chapter. The students learned that the eggs, constantly rotating in the incubator, must be kept at 98-99 degrees F. and the correct humidity level maintained. They also learned patience while the chicks matured inside the shells.

As the chicks hatch, the students will take them from the incubator and place them in the brooder. They will learn to care for the chicks by providing them with starter feed and water, and by keeping the brooder clean. The chicks will remain at the Grayling Elementary School for about 10 days. Every class will have an opportunity to visit the chicks before Mrs. Hubbard, from the 4-H office, distributes them to 4-H students. The chicks will then be raised as 4-H fair projects.

...about your Social Security

Applying for SSI
Persons age 65 or older, or blind or disabled who believe they may be eligible for supplemental security income (SSI) payments should apply at their local Social Security office without delay. Applicants must provide certain information before their eligibility for payment can be decided, but they do not need to have all of the necessary information before applying. The people in the Social Security office can help to get whatever paperwork is needed. There is a good reason to apply right away. Payments can't start any earlier than the date of application. So delay in filing can mean a loss in payments.
